

Host a performer

Questions? Email travelers@fringefestival.org.

Every year, Minnesota Fringe welcomes out-of-town performers from rural Minnesota to France to New York to South Africa and all points in between. Fringe artists generally don't have a lot of extra money for hotels, so we ask art supporters to volunteer to host performers. We have dozens of people to find housing for—and none of them are picky. So even if you just have a living room floor to offer, we might just take it.

To help us make good matches, please fill out this form completely. The 2008 festival takes place July 31 through August 10, 2008. Most artists start arriving in Minneapolis on or around July 29 and 30.
